

CONTENTS

PREFACE FOR INSTRUCTORS	iii
THEMATIC CONTENTS	xxvii
INTRODUCTION	i
WHY READ? WHY WRITE?	1
USING THE BEDFORD READER	2
The selections • The organization • The journal prompts, questions, writing topics, and glossary • Writers on writing
PART ONE
READING, WRITING, AND RESEARCH	7
1 CRITICAL READING	9
READING AN ESSAY	10
The preliminaries • The first reading
NANCY MAIRS Disability	13
A writer with multiple sclerosis thinks she knows why the media carry so few images of people like herself with disabilities: Viewers might conclude, correctly, that "there is something ordinary about disability itself."
Writing while reading • Summarizing • Thinking critically

ANALYZING AN ESSAY 20
 Meaning • Writing strategy • Language • A close look at Nancy Mairs's
 "Disability" (annotated essay)

THINKING CRITICALLY ABOUT VISUAL IMAGES 27
 The big picture • Analysis • Inference • Synthesis • Evaluation

Visual Image: A Deployed Soldier and His Daughter, photograph by Erik S. Lesser

2 THE WRITING PROCESS 33

ANALYZING THE WRITING SITUATION 34
 Subject • Audience and purpose • Genre

DISCOVERING IDEAS 37
 Journal writing • Freewriting • The methods of development

FOCUSING ON THE THESIS AND THE THESIS STATEMENT 39

DRAFTING 40

REVISING 41
 Purpose and genre • Thesis • Unity • Development • Coherence

Questions for revision 42

EDITING 44
 Effective language • Clear and engaging sentences • Correct grammar

Questions for editing 44

COLLABORATING 50

AN ESSAY-IN-PROGRESS 51
 Reading and drafting • Revising • Editing • Final draft

ROSIE ANAYA Mental Illness on Television (annotated essay) 57

Responding in part to Nancy Mairs's "Disability" (Chap. 1), a student writer argues that television should "portray psychological disability as a part of everyday life, not a crime."

3 ACADEMIC WRITING 61

RESPONDING TO A TEXT 62
 Forming a response • Synthesizing your own and another's views

INTEGRATING SOURCE MATERIAL 64
 Summary, paraphrase, and quotation • Introduction of source material

WRITING FROM RESEARCH 67
 Evaluating sources • Working with online sources • Synthesizing multiple sources

AVOIDING PLAGIARISM 71
 Examples and revisions • Plagiarism and the Internet • Common knowledge

SO
 M
 S
 ROSIE
 When
 "stage
 -ruden
 -ruden
 of psyc
 Rosie

PART TWO
 THE MET

4 NAR
 Visual
 advert

T
 T
 P
 e
 F
 C
 N
 V
 N

DIFFI

MAY

She d writer pair of

PAIRED
 SELECTIONS
 Maya

AMY

The w attend

Amy I

SOURCE CITATION USING MLA STYLE	73
MLA parenthetical citations • MLA list of works cited
SAMPLE RESEARCH PAPER	86

ROSIE ANAYA	The Best Kept Secret on Campus (annotated essay)	86
-------------	---	----

When college students suffer psychological problems—and the number who do is “staggering”—they seldom seek or receive the help they need. Drawing on sources, the student author of the response essay in Chapter 2 probes more deeply into the subject of psychological disability.

Rosie Anaya on Writing	91
-------------------------------	----

PART TWO THE METHODS 95

4 NARRATION: Telling a Story 97

Visual Image: How Joe's Body Brought Him Fame instead of Shame, advertisement for Charles Atlas

THE METHOD	98
------------	----

THE PROCESS	99
-------------	----

Purpose and shape • The thesis • The narrator in the story • What to emphasize • Organization

Focus on verbs	104
-----------------------	-----

Checklist for revising a narrative	105
---	-----

NARRATION IN PARAGRAPHS	106
-------------------------	-----

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

NARRATION IN A CASE STUDY	107
---------------------------	-----

DIFFERENCE

MAYA ANGELOU	Champion of the World	110
--------------	-----------------------	-----

She didn't dare ring up a sale while that epic battle was on. A noted African American writer remembers from her early childhood the night when a people's fate hung on a pair of boxing gloves.

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

Maya Angelou on Writing	114
--------------------------------	-----

AMY TAN	Fish Cheeks	116
---------	-------------	-----

The writer remembers her teenage angst when the minister and his cute blond son attended her family's Christmas Eve dinner, an elaborate Chinese feast.

Amy Tan on Writing	119
---------------------------	-----

ANNIE DILLARD The Chase 121

Playing football, throwing snowballs, and being chased: For this writer as a child, nothing could equal the thrill of hurling herself into the game.

Annie Dillard on Writing 126BRADLEY PHILBERT Good 127

"It felt like a conspiracy, a betrayal." Seeing his beloved dog suffer, this student writer had to make a wrenching decision.

Bradley Philbert on Writing 131HOWARD MARKEL Mary Ellen's Story 133

Weaving trial testimony, newspaper accounts, and a photograph, a doctor and historian tells the tale of an abused orphan and her rescue—by the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Visual Image: Photograph of Mary Ellen McCormack

SHIRLEY JACKSON The Lottery 139

Fear builds imperceptibly in this classic short story as folks gather for their town's annual lottery. "It isn't fair, it isn't right," exclaims the winner.

Shirley Jackson on Writing 148

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 150

5 DESCRIPTION: Writing with Your Senses 153

Visual Image: Doug and Mizan's House, East River, photograph by Margaret Morton

THE METHOD 154

THE PROCESS 155

Purpose and audience • Dominant impression and thesis • Organization • Details

Focus on specific and concrete language 158

Checklist for revising a description 159

DESCRIPTION IN PARAGRAPHS 159

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

DESCRIPTION IN A FIELD OBSERVATION 161

FATHERS

BRAD MANR

In the time
adult has c

Brad ManrPAIRED
SELECTIONS

SARAH VOW

"All the ex-
trial differ-

Sarah Vow

ELIZABETH

While temp
"Holy of ho

WILLIAM

They didn't
the highwa

William Lee

JOYCE CAROL

This poem
imagining fi

Visual ImageJoyce Carol

ADDITION

6 EXAMPLI*Visual Image

THE M

THE PE

The ge

Focus c

FATHERS

BRAD MANNING Arm Wrestling with My Father 163

In the time it takes for a strong arm to fall, a student writer discovers that becoming an adult has changed the way he feels about his father and their physical competition.

Brad Manning on Writing 169

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

SARAH VOWELL Shooting Dad 171

"All he ever cared about were guns. All I ever cared about was art." Despite their essential difference, the writer discovers a strong resemblance between her father and herself.

Sarah Vowell on Writing 179

ELIZABETH GILBERT The Best Pizza in the World 181

While temporarily living in Rome, the author took an impulsive day trip to Naples: "Holy of holies! Thin, doughy, strong, gummy, yummy, chewy, salty pizza paradise."

WILLIAM LEAST HEAT-MOON Dance of the Hobs 187

They didn't expect to see anything, but there it was: a mysterious light hovering over the highway. "How does a sane person see what isn't there?"

William Least Heat-Moon on Writing 193

JOYCE CAROL OATES Edward Hopper's Nighthawks, 1942 194

This poem animates the people in Edward Hopper's famous painting Nighthawks, imagining from what can be seen what might be occurring.

Visual Image: Nighthawks, painting by Edward Hopper

Joyce Carol Oates on Writing 199

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 201

6 EXAMPLE: Pointing to Instances 203

Visual Image: Low-Energy Drinks, cartoon by Glen Le Lievre

THE METHOD 204

THE PROCESS 205

The generalization and the thesis • The examples

Focus on sentence variety 207

Checklist for revising an example essay	207
EXAMPLES IN PARAGRAPHS	208
Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline
EXAMPLES IN A JOB-APPLICATION LETTER	209

HOMELESSNESS

BARBARA LAZEAR ASCHER On Compassion 211

Where do we find the compassion to help the desperate, the homeless? It's "not a character trait like a sunny disposition," says this essayist. "It must be learned, and it is learned by having adversity at our windows."

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

Barbara Lazear Ascher on Writing 215

ANNA QUINDLEN Homeless 216

A journalist who confesses an aversion for "looking at the big picture, taking the global view," insists on seeing homelessness as an individual crisis.

Anna Quindlen on Writing 219

SHARMAN APT RUSSELL The Adored, Buzzing around Us 221

Bugs that spew odors, dissolve prey, suck blood—a naturalist makes a case for seeking the glory in all of nature, even the revolting parts.

Sharman Apt Russell on Writing 224

BRENT STAPLES Black Men and Public Space 226

In near-deserted streets at night, an African American writer finds that women flee from him. Relating case histories, he tells what he has discovered about "public space."

Brent Staples on Writing 230

DAVID FOSTER WALLACE This Is Water 233

In this famous commencement speech, a noted novelist and essayist offers new college graduates a way to overcome the "boredom, routine, and petty frustration" of adult life.

David Foster Wallace on Writing 241

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 242

7 COMPARISON AND CONTRAST: Setting Things Side by Side 245

Visual Images: American Gothic, painting by Grant Wood;
Rural Rehabilitation Client, photograph by Ben Shahn

THE METHOD 246

THE PR
Subject
Flexibil
Focus
Checkl
COMP.
Writing
COMP.

PERSONALIT

SUZANNE

"Neat people compares in

Suzanne Bri

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

DAVE BAR

An expert at the sexes. It

Dave Barry

BRUCE CA

The great C
their opposi

Bruce Catto

DAVID SEI

A popular e-have grown

David Sedar

FATEMA M

Trying to be to compare
Who's actu

GEORGE C

Whatever is discriminat

ADDITION

THE PROCESS	247
Subjects for comparison • Basis for comparison and thesis • Organization • Flexibility
Focus on paragraph coherence	250
Checklist for revising a comparison and contrast	251
COMPARISON AND CONTRAST IN PARAGRAPHS	251
Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline
COMPARISON AND CONTRAST IN A REVIEW	253

PERSONALITIES

SUZANNE BRITT Neat People vs. Sloppy People 255

"Neat people are lazier and meaner than sloppy people," asserts the writer. As she compares and contrasts, she takes up a cudgel and chooses sides.

Suzanne Britt on Writing 259

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

DAVE BARRY Batting Clean-Up and Striking Out 261

An expert at comedic observation takes a humorous swing at the difference between the sexes. It hinges on the importance each sex gives to dirt and baseball.

Dave Barry on Writing 265

BRUCE CATTON Grant and Lee: A Study in Contrasts 267

The great Civil War generals Ulysses S. Grant and Robert E. Lee clearly personified their opposing traditions. But what they had in common was more vital by far.

Bruce Catton on Writing 272

DAVID SEDARIS Remembering My Childhood on the Continent of Africa 274

A popular essayist complains about his "unspeakably dull" childhood, when he might have grown up like his partner, Hugh, amid monkeys and machete-wielding guards.

David Sedaris on Writing 280

EATEMA MERNISSI Size 6: The Western Women's Harem 282

Trying to buy a skirt in a US department store leads the author, a Moroccan Muslim, to compare the relative disadvantages of women in Western and Muslim countries. Who's actually better off?

GEORGE CHAUNCEY The Legacy of Antigay Discrimination 290

Whatever today's prejudice against gays and lesbians, the "systematic and powerful" discrimination of fifty years ago was much worse. A historian explains the difference.

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 297

8 PROCESS ANALYSIS: Explaining Step by Step 299

Visual Image: Workers Making Dalis, photograph by Wally McNamee

THE METHOD 300

THE PROCESS 301

Focus on consistency 303

Checklist for revising a process analysis 304

PROCESS ANALYSIS IN PARAGRAPHS 305

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

PROCESS ANALYSIS IN A LAB REPORT 306

THE ENVIRONMENT

LINNEA SAUKKO How to Poison the Earth 308

A prize-winning student writer sets forth the process by which we can pollute our planet. What moves her to provide such information?

Linnea Saukko on Writing 312

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

GRETEL EHRLICH Chronicles of Ice 313

Reflecting on the formation of glaciers, an acclaimed nature writer ponders a disturbing question: What will happen to our planet if the glaciers melt away?

Gretel Ehrlich on Writing 318

FIROOZEH DUMAS Sweet, Sour, and Resentful 320

A well-known humorist tries to understand why her mother endured “the same draining routine week after week” to prepare traditional Iranian menus for dozens of houseguests she barely knew.

Firoozeh Dumas on Writing 325

JESSICA MITFORD Behind the Formaldehyde Curtain 326

With sardonic wit, the writer, whom Time called “Queen of the Muckrakers,” details the stages through which a sallow corpse becomes a masterwork of American mortuary art.

Jessica Mitford on Writing 336

MICHAEL POLLAN Corn’s Conquest 337

You are what you eat, the saying goes. This ground-breaking journalist cautions that what you eat is mostly corn.

Michael Pollan on Writing 346

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 346

9 DIVISION

Visual Image

THE 5

Kinds

THE 1

Subject

Focus

Check

DIVIS

Writing

DIVIS

WOMEN A

JUDY BR

In this tem

rations. Wha

Judy Brady

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

CHRISTIN

Her son’s re

of gender d

Christina H

GUILLERMO

What gives

A filmmaker

Guillermo

BELLA DE

Examining

common it

Bella DePa

EMILY AY

A German

connect th

Visual Im

photograph

9 DIVISION OR ANALYSIS: Slicing into Parts 351

Visual Image: Deconstructing Lunch, cartoon by Roz Chast

THE METHOD 352

Kinds of division or analysis • Analysis and critical thinking

THE PROCESS 354

Subjects and theses • Evidence

Focus on the thesis statement 356

Checklist for revising a division or analysis essay 356

DIVISION OR ANALYSIS IN PARAGRAPHS 357

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

DIVISION OR ANALYSIS IN AN ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY 358

WOMEN AND MEN

JUDY BRADY I Want a Wife 360

In this feminist view of marriage, the work of a wife is divided into its roles and functions. What a wonderful boon a wife is! Shouldn't every woman have one of her own?

Judy Brady on Writing 364

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

CHRISTINA HOFF SOMMERS Men—It's in Their Nature 365

Her son's response to a "sensitivity exercise" leads this philosopher to assert the benefits of gender differences. Trying to make boys behave more like girls, she says, hurts us all.

Christina Hoff Sommers on Writing 370

GUILLERMO DEL TORO AND CHUCK HOGAN Vampires Never Die 372

What gives an ancient legend the power to infiltrate contemporary popular culture? A filmmaker and a novelist, coauthors of a best-selling vampire trilogy, have a theory.

Guillermo del Toro and Chuck Hogan on Writing 377

BELLA D'PAULO The Myth of Doomed Kids 379

Examining a study of teens with substance-abuse problems, a psychologist dispels a common myth about children of single parents.

Bella DePaulo on Writing 385

LAILA AYAD The Capricious Camera 387

A German photograph from the time of World War II prompts a student writer to connect the subject's story to the larger narrative of Nazi racial experiments.

Visual Image: Mounted Nazi Troops on the Lookout for Likely Polish Children, photograph

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 396

10 CLASSIFICATION: Sorting into Kinds 399

Visual Image: Please Recycle, chart by Partners at Work for a Better Environment

THE METHOD 400

Subjects and reasons for classification • Kinds of classification

THE PROCESS 401

Purposes and theses • Categories

Focus on paragraph development 403

Checklist for revising a classification 404

CLASSIFICATION IN PARAGRAPHS 404

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

CLASSIFICATION IN A RÉSUMÉ 405

TELLING LIES

STEPHANIE ERICSSON The Ways We Lie 408

Most of us couldn't get by without lying, the writer acknowledges, but even the little lies corrupt, until "moral garbage becomes as invisible to us as water is to a fish."

Stephanie Ericsson on Writing 417

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

WILLIAM LUTZ The World of Doublespeak 418

"Prevention deficiencies" (potholes) and "a career alternative placement program" (a lay-off of workers) are but two expressions that conceal unpleasant truths. An expert in such doublespeak explains the types and their effects.

William Lutz on Writing 426

RUSSELL BAKER The Plot against People 428

The goal of manmade objects, declares this renowned humorist, is nothing short of the destruction of the human race.

Russell Baker on Writing 432

DEBORAH TANNEN But What Do You Mean? 435

Sometimes an apology is not an apology, observes an expert on communication. Men and women would get along better if they understood each other's codes of speech.

Deborah Tannen on Writing 443

DACHER F

How can we psychologist

Visual Imag

ADDITION

11 CAUSE AND EFFECT

Visual Imag

THE ME

THE PR

Subject

Final wo

Focus o

Checkli

CAUSE

Writing

CAUSE

GLOBALIZATI

CHITRA DIV

Forcing devel seems. The ch much worse th

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

Chitra Divaka

MARIE JAVL

Americans wh writer in this American boy

Marie Javdani

HELEN PIEG

Vossloo and neurobiologist

DACHER KULTNER A Vocabulary of Smiles 445

How can we tell if someone is sincerely happy? It's all in the eyes, explains this psychologist.

Visual Images: Smile Quiz, photographs

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 453

11 CAUSE AND EFFECT: Asking Why 455

Visual Image: Im txtng while drvg, cartoon by Mike Luckovich

THE METHOD 456

THE PROCESS 457

Subjects, purposes, and theses • Causal relations • Discovery of causes • Final word

Focus on clarity and conciseness 461

Checklist for revising a cause-and-effect essay 461

CAUSE AND EFFECT IN PARAGRAPHS 462

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

CAUSE AND EFFECT IN A LETTER TO THE EDITOR 463

GLOBALIZATION

CHITRA DIVAKARUNI Live Free and Starve 466

Forcing developing countries to put an end to child labor might not be the cure-all it seems. The children themselves, asserts this activist and fiction writer, could suffer fates much worse than working.

Chitra Divakaruni on Writing 470

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

MARIE JAVDANI Plata o Plomo: Silver or Lead 472

Americans who use illegal drugs harm more than just themselves, argues a student writer in this carefully researched essay. Consider the plight of Miguel, a South American boy victimized by the drug trade.

Marie Javdani on Writing 477

HELEN PILCHER The New Witch Doctors: How Belief Can Kill 479

Voodoo and modern medicine have surprisingly much in common, according to this neurobiologist. In both practices, mere suggestion can prove fatal.

BARBARA KINGSOLVER Rural Delivery 534

Borthered by a general disrespect for the people and politics of the American countryside, a popular writer explains what rural really means.

Barbara Kingsolver on Writing 540

ANDREA JONES Identity's Edge 541

Skin marks the boundary of the human body, notes this author, but that "flimsy dermal bubble" also connects each individual to the surrounding world. You may never look at your flesh the same way again.

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 545

13 ARGUMENT AND PERSUASION: Stating Opinions and Proposals 547

Visual Image: Corporate America Flag, image from Arlbusters Media Foundation

THE METHOD 548

Transaction between writer and reader • Elements of argument • Reasoning

THE PROCESS 556

Finding a subject • Organizing

Focus on tone 558

Checklist for revising an argument or persuasion 559

ARGUMENT AND PERSUASION IN PARAGRAPHS 560

Writing about television • Writing in an academic discipline

ARGUMENT AND PERSUASION IN A PROPOSAL 561

COLLEEN WENKE Too Much Pressure 564

Most evidence says that students cheat much more than they did fifty years ago. This student writer argues for a certain explanation.

SAME-SEX MARRIAGE

KATHA POLLITT What's Wrong with Gay Marriage? 570

A liberal commentator systematically refutes the arguments she hears against same-sex marriage. Marriage, she says, is much less defined and standardized than many people want to believe.

Katha Pollitt on Writing 574

CHARLES COLESON "Gay 'Marriage': Societal Suicide" 576

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

The purpose of marriage is to nurture children, says this conservative writer and prison activist. Undermining traditional families by allowing same-sex marriage will lead to "more criminals behind bars and more chaos in our streets."

STEROIDS IN SPORTS

PETER F. MARTIN "Destroyed" 580

For many fans, steroid use by athletes diminishes the purity of sports, but this student writer contends that the health effects for athletes are even more troubling.

PAIRED
SELECTIONS

Peter F. Martin on Writing 584

RODRIGO VILLAGOMEZ "The Designer Player" 586

Steroids aren't hurting anything, asserts this student writer. On the contrary, performance-enhancing drugs deserve credit for enabling the feats that keep professional baseball popular with fans.

Rodrigo Villagomez on Writing 591

IMMIGRATION: Border Control

MARK KRİKORIAN "Safety through Immigration Control" 593

A strong advocate of immigration control, this writer argues that anything less than right border security "leaves us naked in the face of the enemy."

EDWIDGE DANTICAT "Not Your Homeland" 598

A well-known fiction writer and an immigrant from Haiti makes a deeply personal argument against what she sees as unreasonably strict immigration control.

Edwidge Danticat on Writing 603

CASEBOOK

IMMIGRATION: Assimilation

LINDA CHAVEZ "Supporting Family Values" 605

Undocumented Hispanic immigrants may take a while to adapt to life in the United States, acknowledges this conservative activist, but they also have a surprisingly positive influence on American society.

Linda Chavez on Writing 608

LAY NORDLINGER "Bassackwards: Construction Spanish and Other Signs of the Times" 610

The Spanish language is "coddled, bowed to, enshrined" in America, this author complains. It's time we insist that immigrants learn English—for their own sake.

ADDITIONAL

PART THREE MIXING THE

SANDRA C

The only day writer tells he

Sandra Cisne

JOAN DIDIO

In sensuous d
her affliction

Joan Didion c

BARBARA F

A social critic
not only msg

Barbara Ehrer

MARTIN LU

With force and and equality f

MAXINE HO

An adulterous
China. A gene someone whos

Maxine Hong J

GEORGE OR

As a young Brit expectations of

George Orwell

FRANCINE PR

An acclaimed fi and shows that

Francine Prose

ADDITIONAL WRITING TOPICS 616

PART THREE

MIXING THE METHODS 617

SANDRA CISNEROS Only Daughter 620

The only daughter in a large Mexican American family, this respected poet and fiction writer tells how her efforts to be heard finally paid off with her father.

Sandra Cisneros on Writing 625

JOAN DIDION In Bed 627

In sensuous detail, a leading nonfiction writer explains migraine headaches—and how her affliction has become a “friend.”

Joan Didion on Writing 632

BARBARA EHRENREICH The Menace of Negative People 634

A social critic contends that the popular advice to be always optimistic and cheerful is not only misguided but dangerous.

Barbara Ehrenreich on Writing 641

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. I Have a Dream 643

With force and grace, an inspired leader champions the rights of African Americans and equality for all.

MAXINE HONG KINGSTON No Name Woman 649

An adulterous woman is driven to suicide by her unforgiving family and village in China. A generation later, her American-born niece seeks to understand the story of someone whose name she has never dared to ask.

Maxine Hong Kingston on Writing 661

GEORGE ORWELL Shooting an Elephant 663

As a young British police officer, this famous writer faced a killer elephant and the expectations of a gleeful Burmese crowd. He could not take pride in his response.

George Orwell on Writing 671

FRANCINE PROSE What Words Can Tell 674

An acclaimed fiction writer examines the opening paragraph of a famous short story and shows that in good writing—and reading—every word counts.

Francine Prose on Writing 679

- RICHARD RODRIGUEZ Aria: A Memoir of a Bilingual Childhood 681
 Recalling both the pleasures and the pains of his boyhood, a Mexican American writer reflects on his two languages, Spanish and English, and his two cultures. His argument against bilingual education may provoke debate.
Richard Rodriguez on Writing 694
- EDWARD SAID Clashing Civilizations? 696
 The twenty-first century has seen hardened thinking about "Islam vs. the West." This well-known writer argues that such polarities are both simplistic and destructive.
- JONATHAN SWIFT A Modest Proposal 701
 The rich devour the poor -- so why not commercialize cannibalism? With scathing irony, the supreme English satirist states his views in a fit of bitter indignation.
Jonathan Swift on Writing 711
- JOHN UPDIKE Extreme Dinosaurs 713
 In this essay written on assignment, a beloved writer ponders the bizarre appearance of some prehistoric creatures -- and the evolutionary lessons we might take from their demise.
Visual Images: Drawings of Mononykus, Styracosaurus, Parasaurolophus, and Gigantoraptor
John Updike on Writing 721
- E. B. WHITE Once More to the Lake 723
 A father takes his young son on a pilgrimage to a favorite summertime scene from his own childhood, a lake in Maine. There he arrives at a startling revelation.
E. B. White on Writing 730
- USEFUL TERMS 733
- INDEX 755

THEM
 CON

AUTOBIOGRA

Maya Angelou
 Sandra Cisneros
 Edwidge Lantic
 Joan Didion
 Anne Dillard
 Christine Linton
 Barbara Kingsolver
 Brad Manning
 Fatima Mehmood
 Gloria Naylor
 George Orwell
 Bradley P. Dean
 Richard Rodriguez
 David Sedaris
 Brent Staples
 Amy Tan
 Sarah Vowell
 E. B. White

BIOGRAPHY

Bruce Chatwin
 Maxine Hong Kingston
 Howard Miller
 David Sedaris